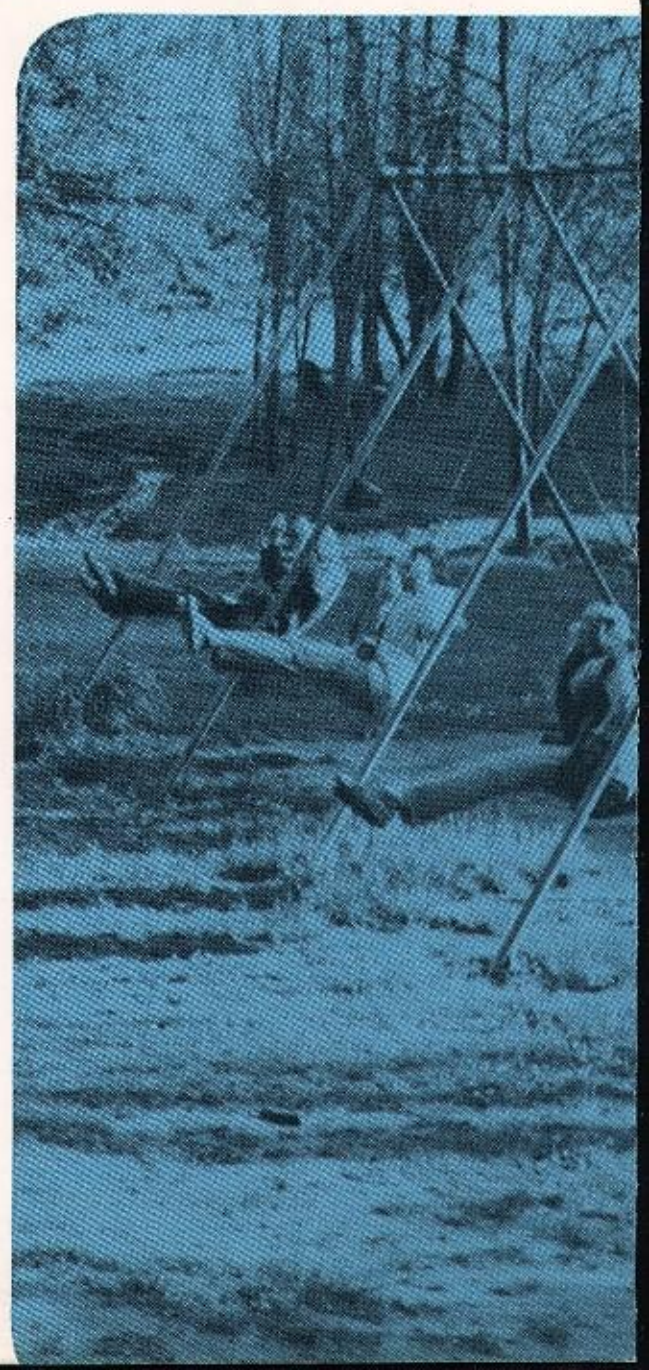
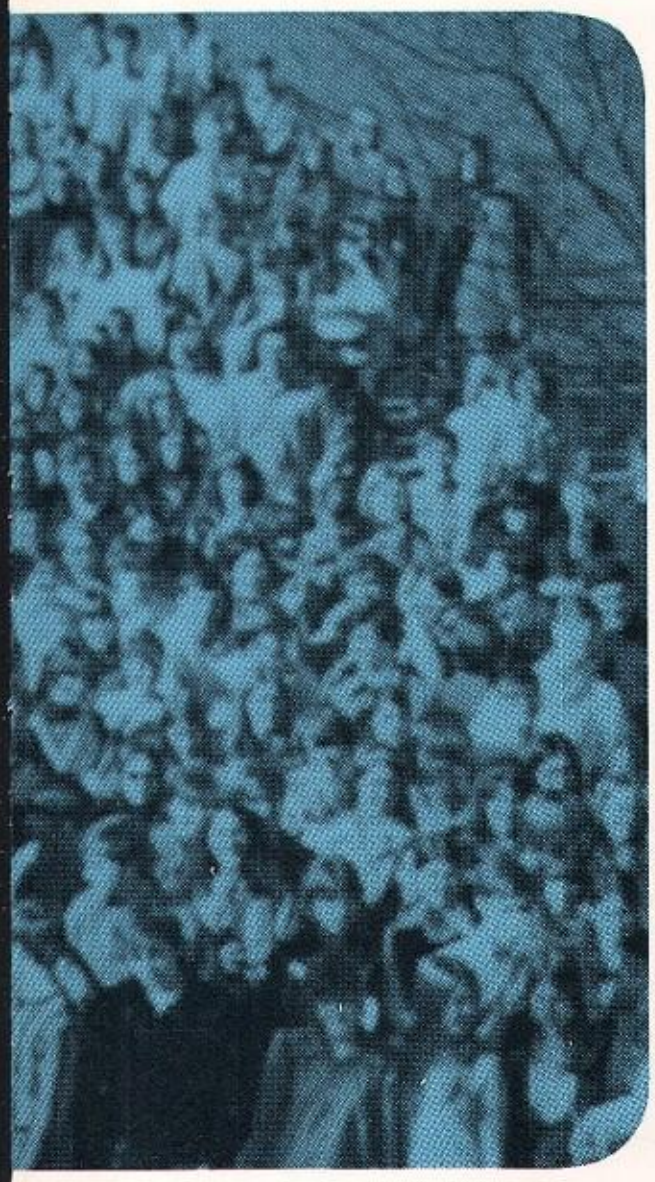
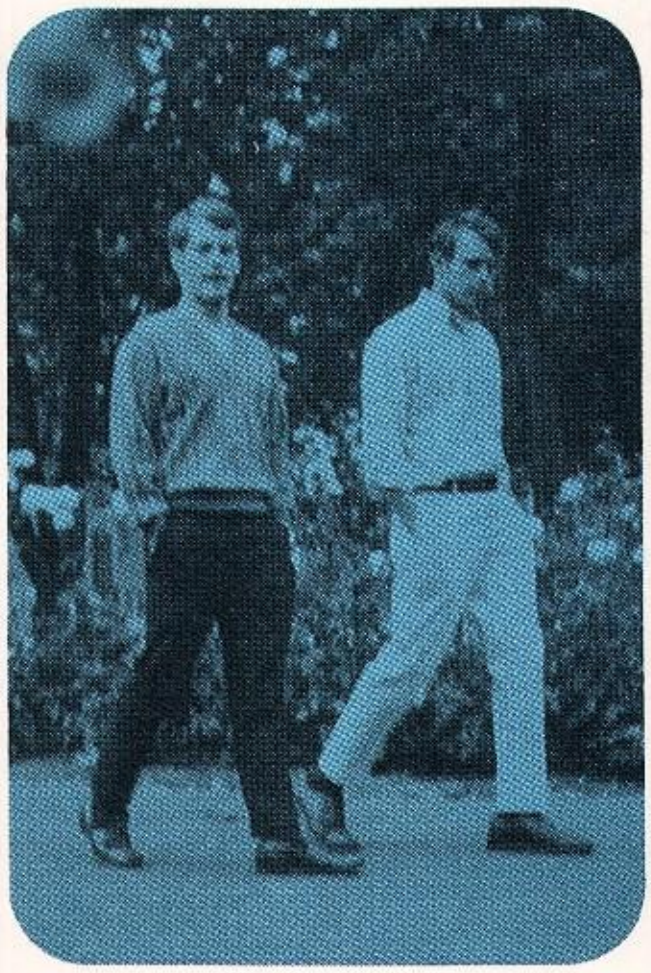
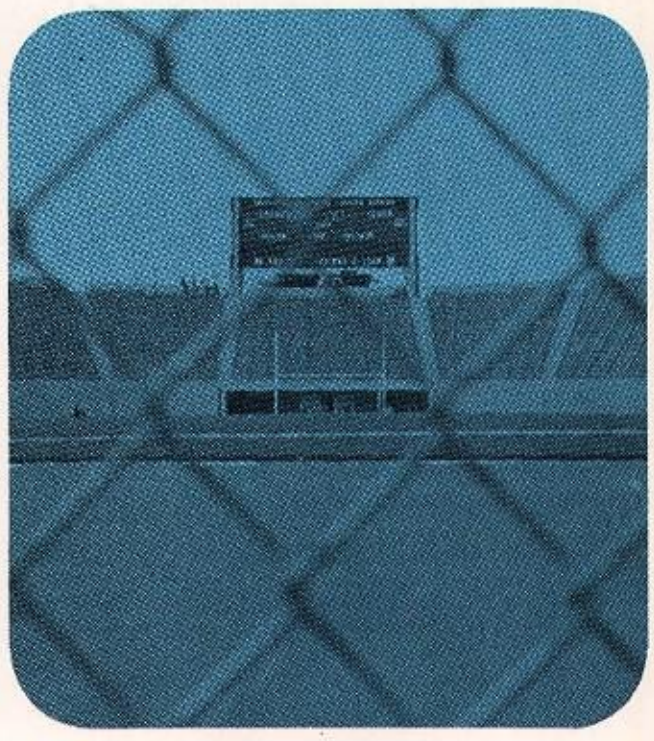
Oregon

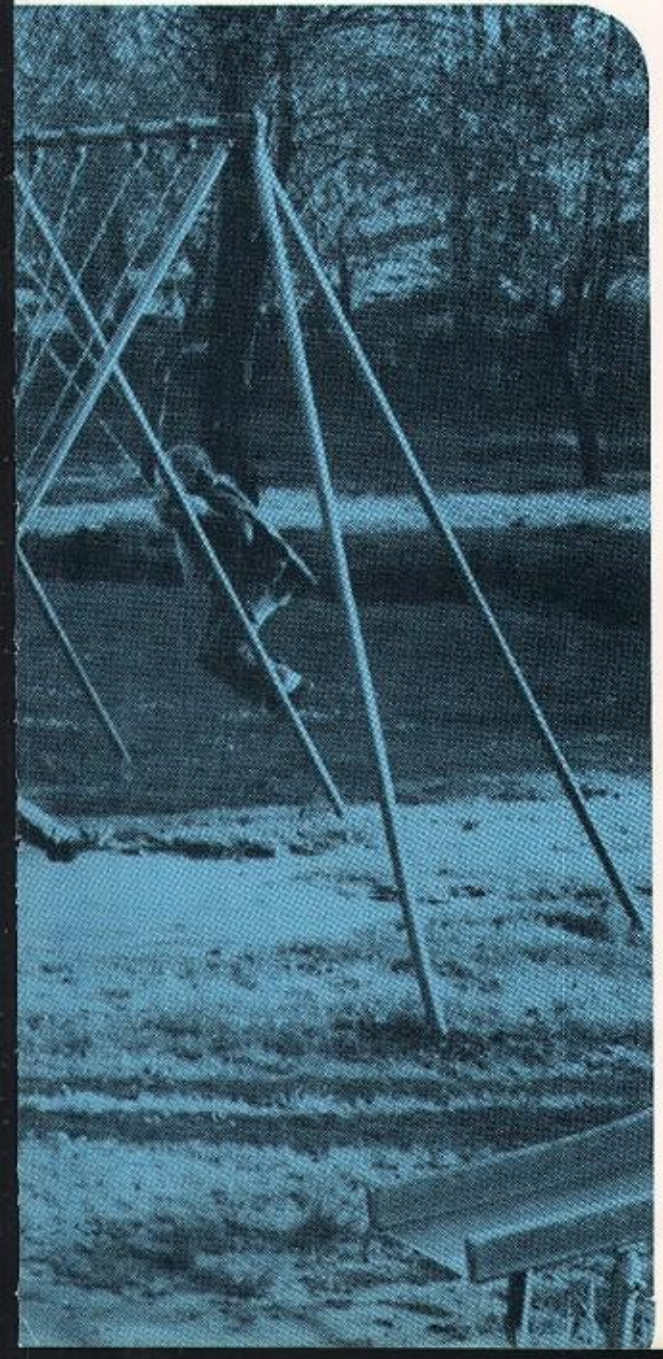
Is it so small a thing
to have enjoyed the sun,

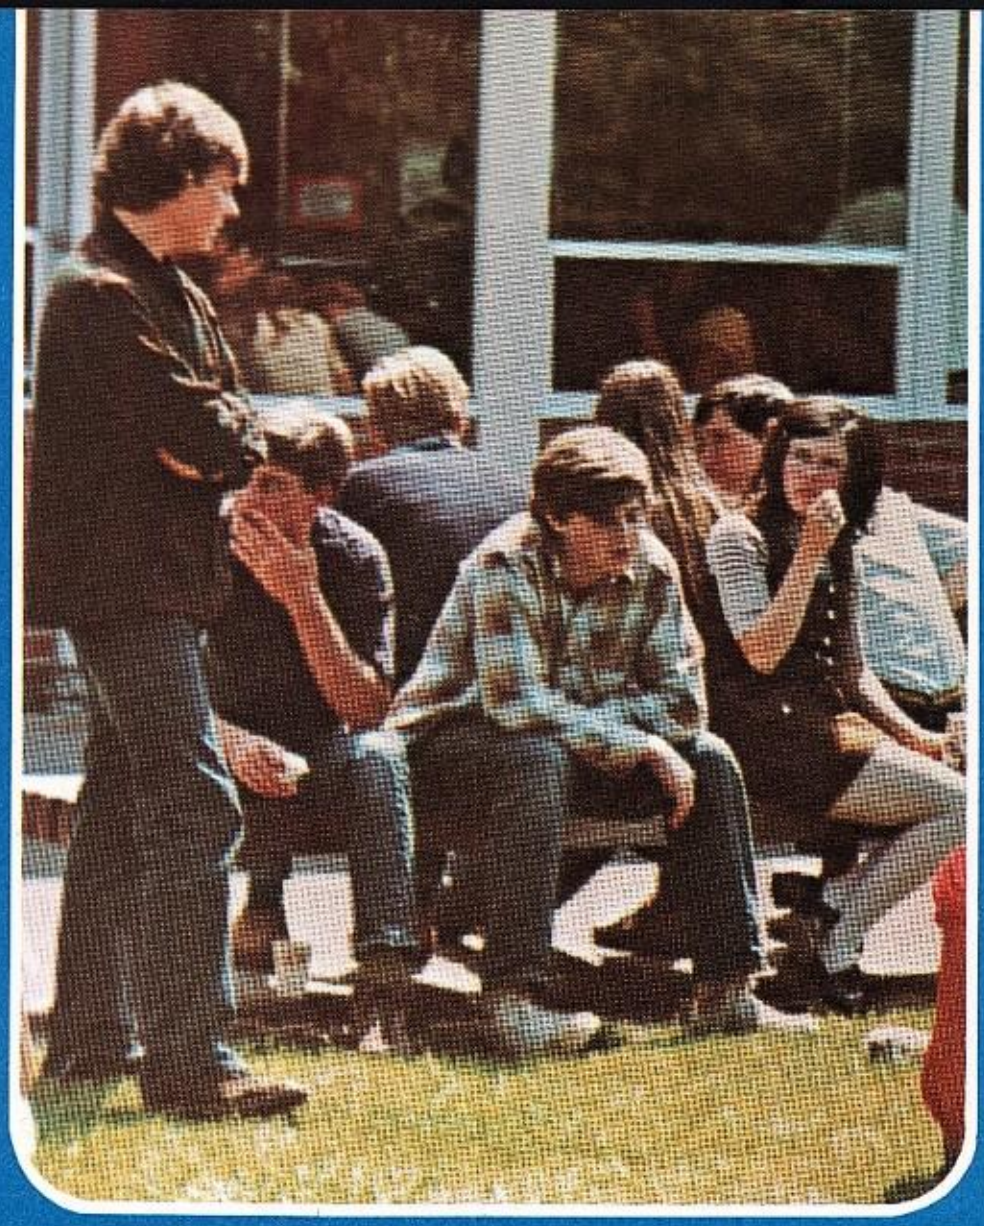




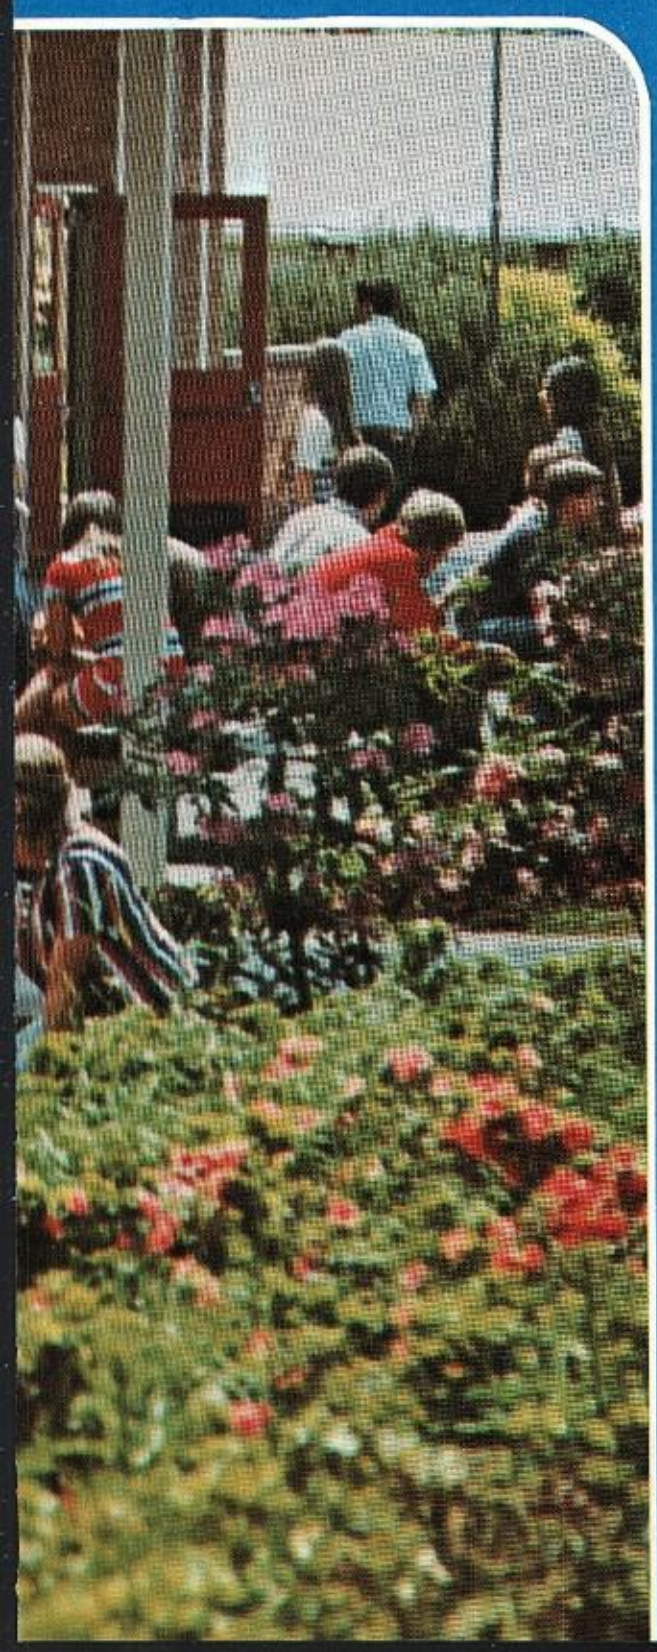


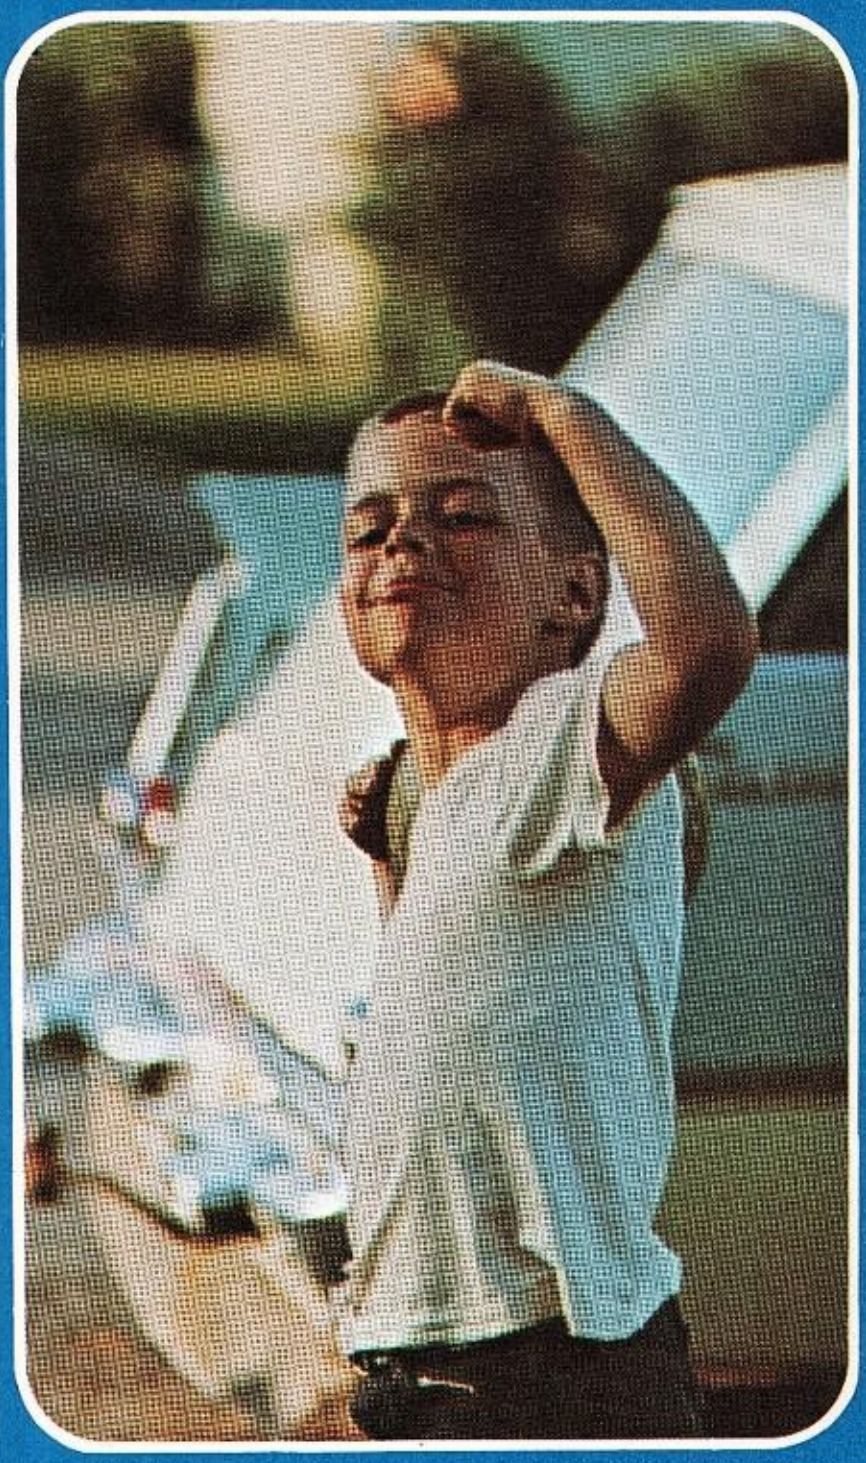


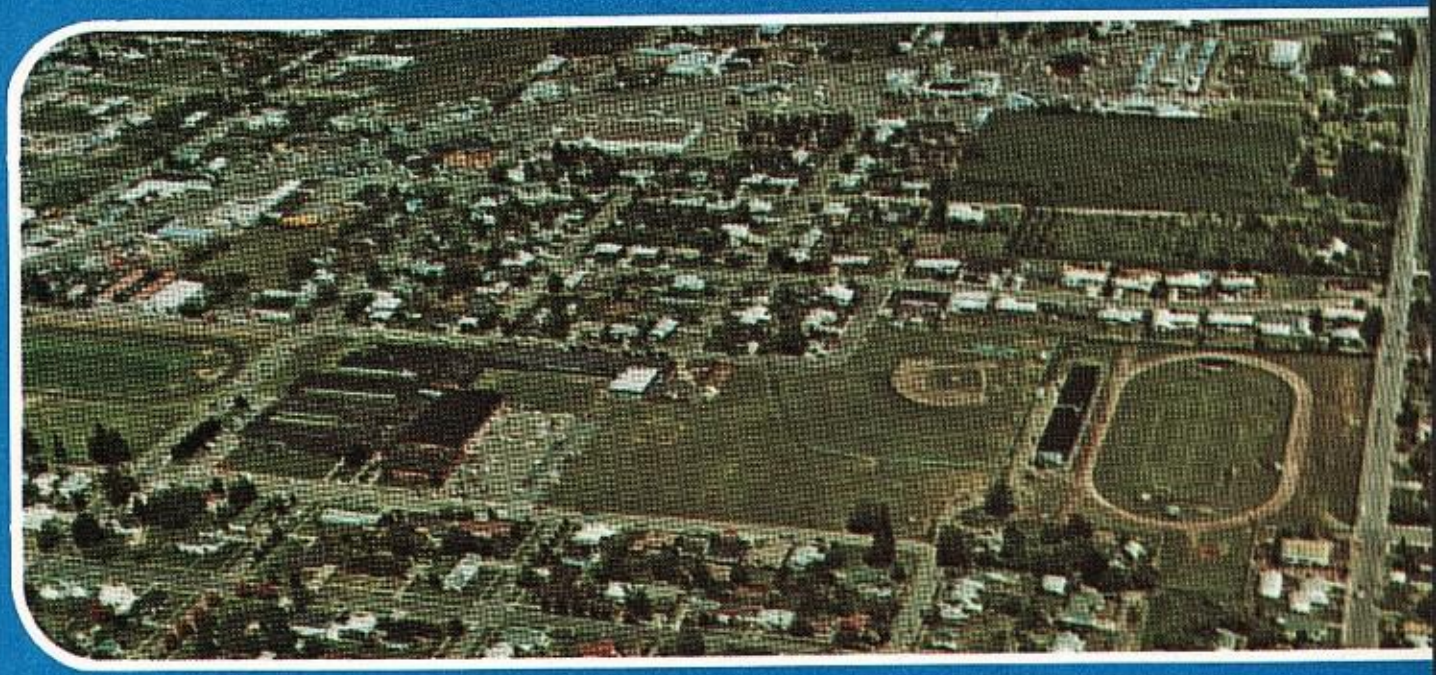


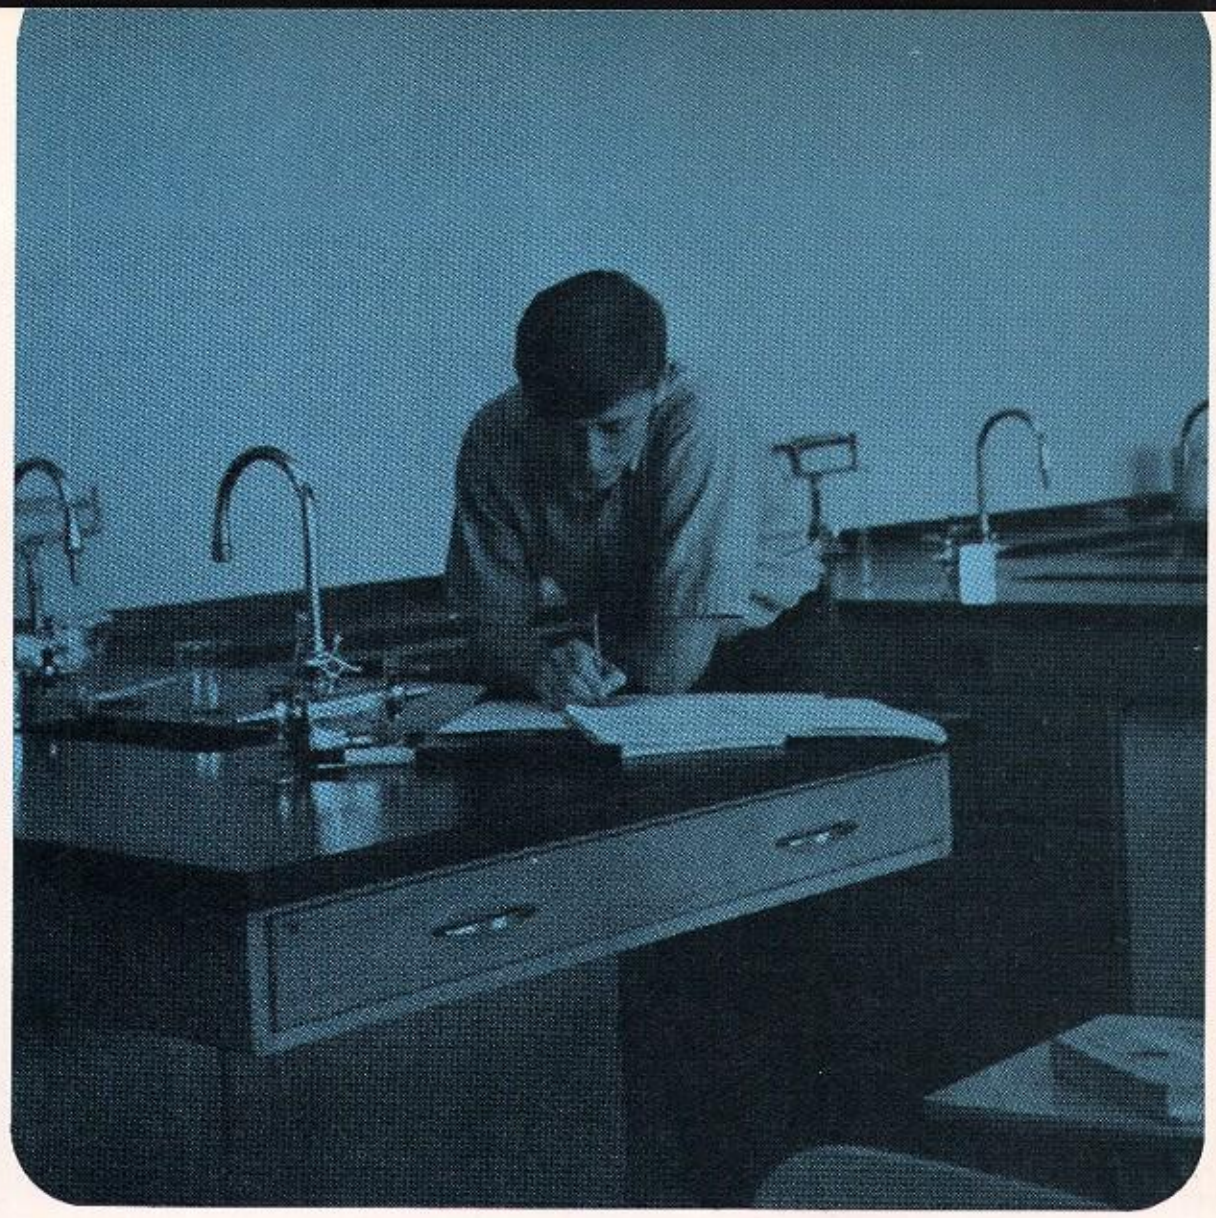


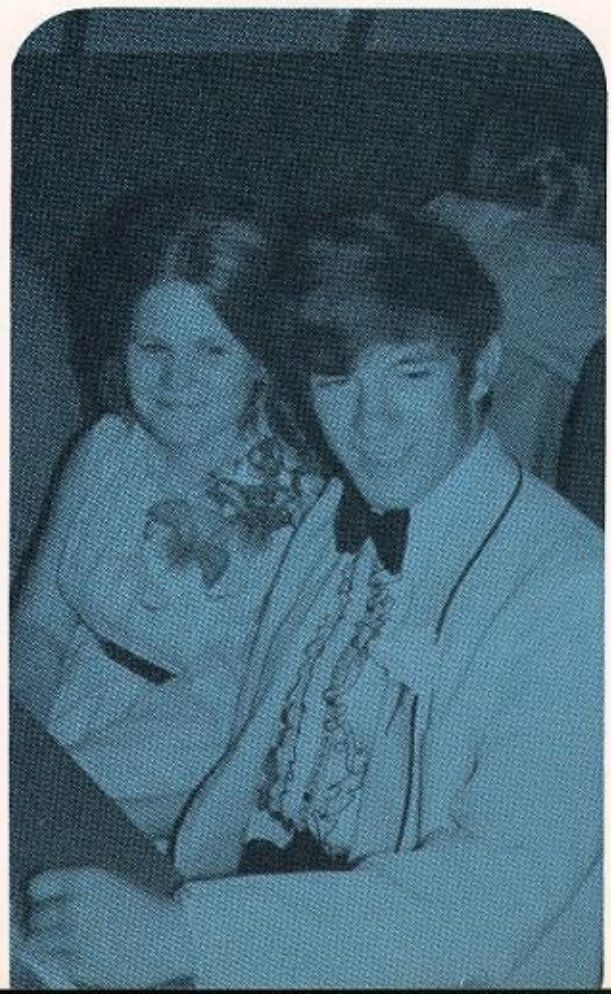
To have lived light
in the spring.



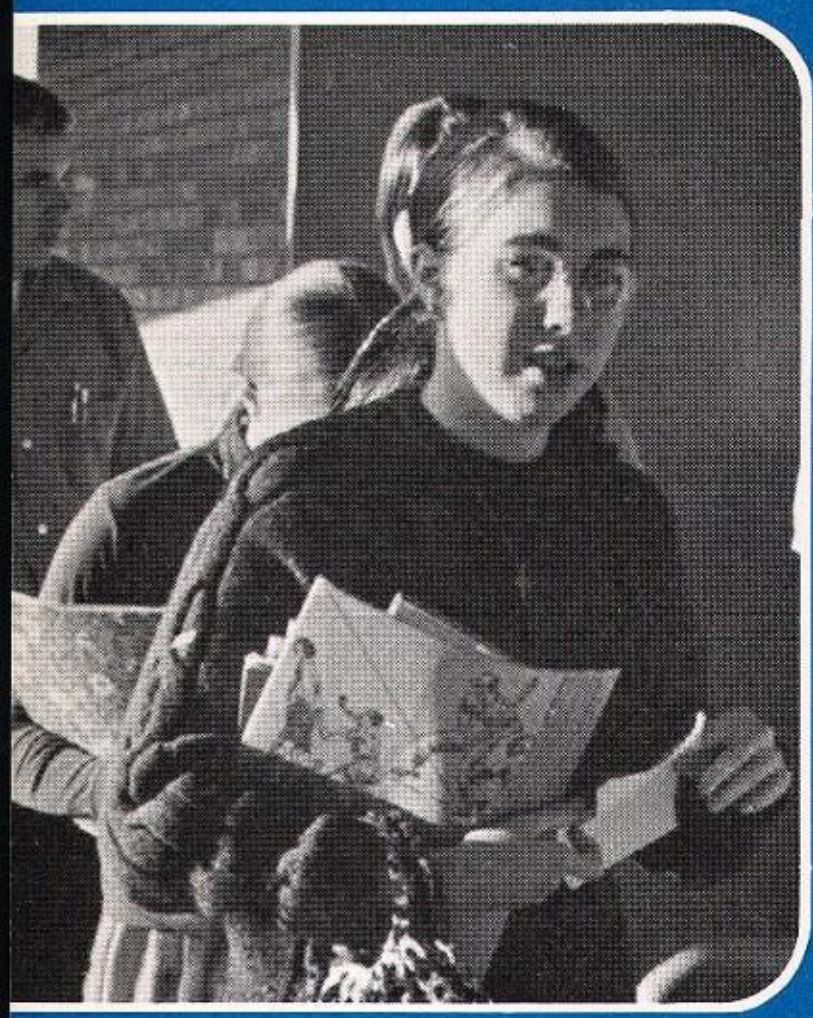








To have loved,
to have thought,



To have done?

Matthew Arnold

Homecoming 1970 started with a 'bang' commonly known as the rally to downtown McMinnville. This years combination rally and noise parade was held Wednesday and hosted the announcements of the Queen and her court. It was followed by a sock hop in honor of the Queen at the high school.

This years theme for homecoming was "Conquer the King of Beasts," for the game with the St. Helens Lions. During the Friday pep assembly the award winners for decorating downtown windows were announced. As tradition has it, the sophomores won 1st place with the juniors and seniors placing next.

Due to the concern for ecology this year there was no homecoming bonfire. But that didn't put out the spirits of the students as they so capably supported their team.

We've got spirit . . . how 'bout you?

Spirit was abundant in Grizzlieland this year as students and parents supported their teams to joyous victories or heartbreaking losses. This year's rally was aided by the white shirt section led by Bill Foster and Doug Welch.

The pep band serenaded the football and basketball teams at home games, to the pleasure of all attending. Their presentation of the National Anthem brought favorable comment from all who heard them. Meanwhile, the 1970-71 spirit flourished.

Assemblies varied

Assemblies of all sorts were presented for the enjoyment of the student body this year. They were varied from the noise and spirit of a pep assembly to the solemn dignity of an Honor Society tapping. The assembly programs helped make the school year complete.

Christmas dance festive

Mistletoe, snow-covered fir trees, lights, sparkles, and happiness were the decorations for this year's Christmas dance. The event was moved to the gym to accommodate a record attendance and proved a welcome change. It was attended by a large crowd of enthusiastic students who danced to the music of the "13th Story" from Portland. At 10:15, the 1970 Miss Holiday was announced as Moe Bernards. Her court consisted of Beth Bacon, sophomore, and Laura Maloney, junior.

Turkey town days arrive

Twerp week's theme this year was Turkey Town Days. To carry out the idea there was a different activity set for each day. Monday was called Occupation Day in which students were to dress in the costume their occupation would call for. Tuesday was the day in which students were to dress up as their favorite celebrity. Wednesday was Senior Power Day where the seniors had the rule over all. Thursday was Wild West Day where students came as cowboys or Indians. Of course the week was topped off by the fantastic annual faculty barbecue.

Quill and Scroll sponsors May Dance

The spring dance for 1971 was held May first in the high school gym. The theme was spring, with flowers and fountains abundant. Music was provided by the Joyful Noise with an intermission for the announcement of King Pat Devlin and Queen Connie Hungerford. Quill and Scroll sponsored the dance and also supplied refreshments, served in the lobby.

Annual tea held

The mother-daughter tea for 1971 was held on a cloudy spring day in May. The entertainment was provided differently this year as several areas presented musical selections, and the guests could choose their preference. Refreshments were served in the relaxing atmosphere of mothers and daughters enjoying their tea.

Crystal blue persuasion is theme for prom

The 1971 prom was held April 10th at eight o'clock in Memorial Gymnasium. The junior class spent the day decorating to the theme of Crystal Blue Persuasian and succeeded in setting a dreamy mood enjoyed by those attending. There was a large attendance as juniors, seniors, alumni, parents, and faculty danced or listened to the music of the Mid-day Rain.

The after-prom party was held from eleven P.M. until two A.M. and was open to all juniors and seniors. There was an abundance of food and the students ate heartily as they listened to records. The junior class parents were the sponsors of this event.

Trestle Glen proves unique

Trestle Glen is an outdoor school provided for the sixth graders of school district 40. The sixth graders are counseled by juniors and seniors who apply for the job, and then are selected by teachers and counselors. The counselors spend a school week at Camp Trestle Glen teaching the young students in the areas of plants, water and soil, weather and woods. The counselors are trained for these assignments during night classes and a Saturday at the Camp.

Youth government delegates selected

Going to the 36th annual Beaver Boys State at Corvallis will be seven junior boys from McMinnville High School. Les Farnham of the American Legion has helped arrange sponsors for the students. At Boys State the young leaders will arrange a government structure similar to the actual government of Oregon. The operation of this "government" will provide valued experiences in democracy for the participants.

Girls State will be held at Willammette University under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary. Three girls from McMinnville High School will be in attendance. These girls will be exposed to the responsibilities of the American citizenship through active participation in setting up a mythical government.

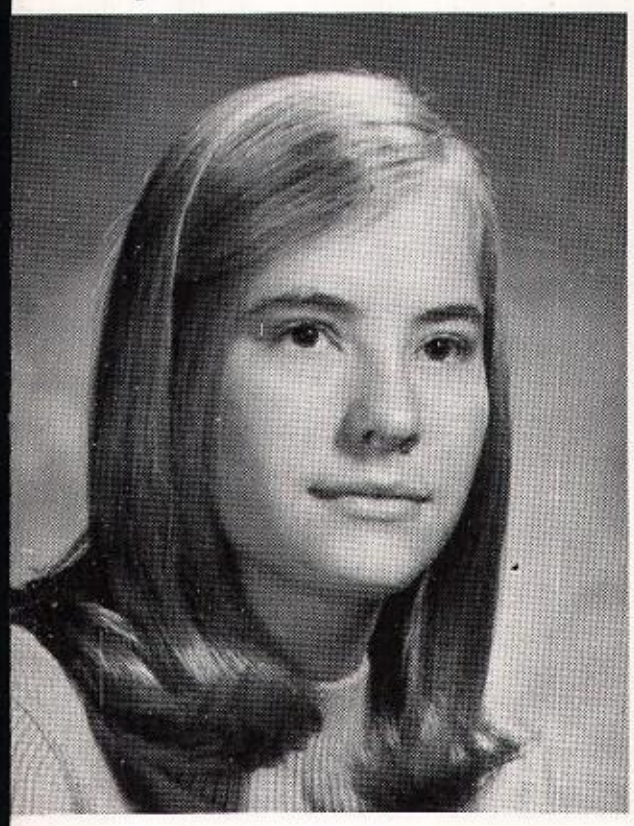
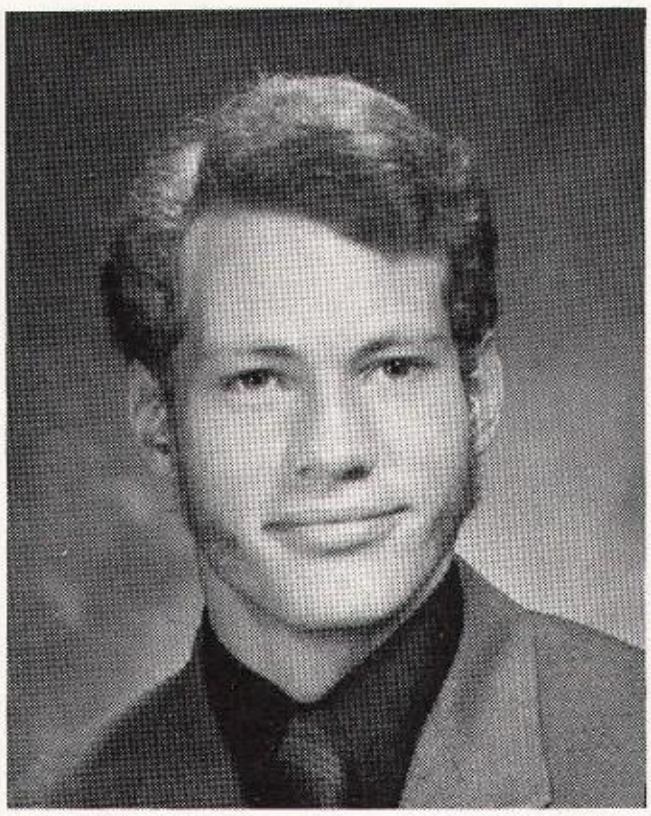
Haynes, Mead represent school





McMinnville High School was represented on the school board by two delegates from the student body. Purpose of their assignment was to convey to the board the thinking and the desires of the student body regarding academic and campus administration. They are shown at left, Roberta Haynes and Peter Mead. Pictured below are the 1971 School Board members (l. to r.): Roba Rathkey, Helen Green, Luella Heringer, Jim Osborne, Supt. Sports

Grizzlies have successful season

The 1970 Grizzlies grid campaign went into the record book as a series of hard fought battles. Several of the grizzly losses were heart-breakers as they lost the championship by only 13 points in 3 losses.

The Grizzlies finished the year with a 6 win, 3 loss record putting them high in the standings in the Coast Valley League.

Head Coach Don Mabee thought his team would be average, but with traditional grizzley spirit and hustle they were top contendors.

The highlight of the season was when the Grizzlies came from behind to score with 4 seconds left in the game against Newberg. They were sparked by senior quarterback Don Rutschman, who completed several passes that took the Grizzlies down to the 3 yard line, when Dan Coleman plunged into the end zone for the tying touchdown. Frank Shockey kicked the extra point.

Receiving all league honors for the Grizzlies were seniors Dan Coleman, Mark Cushing, Don Rutschman, Don Dodge, Jeff Olson, Jim Fink, and Mark Hamby. Juniors Curt Leonard, Rocky Mabry, and sophomores Doug Gunter, Brian Bowman.

Receiving trophy awards this year were senior Dan Coleman who won the Robbins award for the most inspirational player, and also the Allison award for the best defensive player. The Jesperson Trophy for the most outstanding junior went to Curt Leonard.

Outstanding competitors this year were Seniors; Mike Hammond, and Jim Kostur, Juniors; John Rathkey, Ross Heller and Tom Otte, Sophomores Randy Bauchman and Gary Hansen. Coach Prather commented on this year's team. "The team is one of the long time best teams, although more depth was needed."

Girls make big splash

This year's girls' swimming team had a winning season placing second in district standings. The outstanding senior swimmer awards were earned by Sue Sektnan and Sue Anderson who were assets to the team. Six girls qualified for state competition this year. Nancy Hammond and Tammy Perry earned seconds in diving. Sue Sektnan, Sue Anderson and Shelley Lutes placed first in the consolation bracket for the free style relay. The squad was undefeated until their last match with Sweet Home with a 32-63 loss. The girls practiced at the Mac swimming pool under the supervision of Miss Margrett Kopf. Her coaching experience made a more confident team with depth and enthusiasm.

Cross country

The 1970 Cross Country Team, coached by Mr. Ron Elsberry, had a building season. The 15 member team was composed primarily of sophomores and juniors. Most of the season the team came in fourth, but once they took second. Coach Elsberry had praise for sophomores Don Klinger, Don Beckwith, Ron Klinger, and Senior Rick Cole. Graduating seniors are Rick Cole, Jim Wilcox, Carl Contreras, Dennis Graham, and Alejandro Reyes.

Cagers victorious 16-4

The Mac High Grizzly Hoopsters had a 16 win 4 loss record placing in a tie for second place in the western division of the Coast Valley League. The Grizzlies were led by the big men this year with players Curt Leonard, Frank Shockey, Rocky Mabry, and Rob Fredricks in the front court. The team with many talented players survived all of the season bidding for the district playoffs until they lost to Dallas at the seasons end. Two outstanding players were Frank Shockey, third team all state, and Curt Leonard with their 20 and 18 points per game average. Honors went to Leonard and Shockey as first team picks for all-league and Don Rutchman and Mark Peterson received honorable mention. These players along with forwards Todd Barker, Roy Atherton, Steve Schumacher, Doug Fredricks and guards Andy Craig, John Gallagher and Dan Dale provided our school a winning season and many exciting moments.

McMinnville High School Wrestlers have proven to be pinners, not decision makers. As a result of Mr. Bryan's teaching, the boys strive for a pin verdict as opposed to a decision. This aggressive philosophy causes the matches to be very interesting. An interesting development this year was the addition of cheerleaders. Nicky Hardin, Karen Brown and Margaret McDonald were selected for the rally and traveled with the team. A highlight of the season was a five day trip to Coos Bay during Spring Vacation, for the Oregon State High School Tournament. More than one thousand matches were held during the week. Dennis Graham was state champion in both Free Style and Greco Roman Wrestling.

Graham victorious world wide

If Dennis Graham had a second name, it would be Mr. Self Improvement. Throughout the year of 1970-71, Graham's record has been remarkable. During the league he wrestled 49 matches, won 8 by decision, 35 pins and lost 6. Then he went on to take 2nd in the State College Style Championship in State Freestyle and State Greco-Roman. In Freestyle he had 9 matches and pinned 8 opponents within 3 minutes and pinned his 9th opponent within 6 minutes. This is the best in history at a State Wrestling Tournament. He became Regional Champion in Freestyle and Greco-Roman. In the tournament in California that determined who would go to the Junior World Games in Japan, Dennis captured the title of National Champion in Greco-Roman. Graham traveled to Japan and placed 3rd in the Junior World. For the first time in history, McMinnville has been represented in the National and Junior World Championships. Dennis attributes his success to a lot of hard work and the direction of a good coach.

Back row: Most inspirational award; second place State College style; first, subdistrict, and second, District ribbon.

Inexperienced gymnists' succeed

The 1970-71 boys gymnastic team coached by Mr. Dick Prather, had a very rewarding year. The opportunity to compete with other schools gave the gymnists greater depth and experience. This year's most outstanding performer was Steve Blaha who has the ability to work in all areas of the sport. There are six events in boys gymnastics: still rings, free exercise, side horse, parallel bars, high bar, and long-horse vaulting. Graduating seniors include Steve Blaha and Mike Palmer. Returning lettermen next year will be Eric Wells, Eric Wright, Bob Jones, Dan Blaha, Brad Peterson, Craig Boone, Kurt Gusinde, Randy Bachmann and Dan Martin.

Girl gymnasts do well

This was a good year for the Girls' Gymnastics squad. The record for the season was six wins and eight losses. The competition was especially hard, but the girls never gave up. Some of the outstanding gymnists were Leslie Opperud, and Kati Barton on the balance beam; Barbara Corff and Judy Cushman on uneven parallel bars; Nancy Hammond and Margaret McDonald in vaulting; and Connie Miller and Sherry Baltzell on floor exercise. The sophomore participation on the team this year was good, and hopes for next year's team are high as the girls did very well.

Connie Miller was voted most inspirational gymnist for all the help and support she gave the team. Connie was injured at the first of the season but continued to come to the meets and cheer for her team.

Baseball hits big

The 1971 Grizzlies finished their league season with a 10-2 record, and the Western Division Championship. The Bears went on to play the LaSalle Falcons, winners of the Eastern Division. In the first of the 2 out of 3 series, the Bears were paced by the 2-hit pitching of senior Don Rutschman. The Bears with superb base running forced the Falcons into many costly errors and 5 runs for the Bears victory. In the second game of the play-offs the Bears came from behind in the last inning to score 2 runs and post a 4-3 victory. The Bears were finally Coast Valley League Champs, going on to meet the Centennial Eagles in the Quarter finals.

The first game scheduled was rained out before it could be completed. The game was played the next day at Reynolds High School. The Bears fought Centennial nose to nose for 8 innings behind the pitching of Don Rutschman. Coach Stubberfield now brought on junior Mark Peterson in the 9th. The Eagles rallied for 5 runs in the top of the 9th, the bears fighting right down 'till the final out as they scored 1 run in the bottom of the 9th. The final score was Centennial 6, McMinnville 2. All league honors went to seniors Mark Hamby, Don Rutschman, Frank Shockey, and juniors John Gallagher and Mark Peterson.

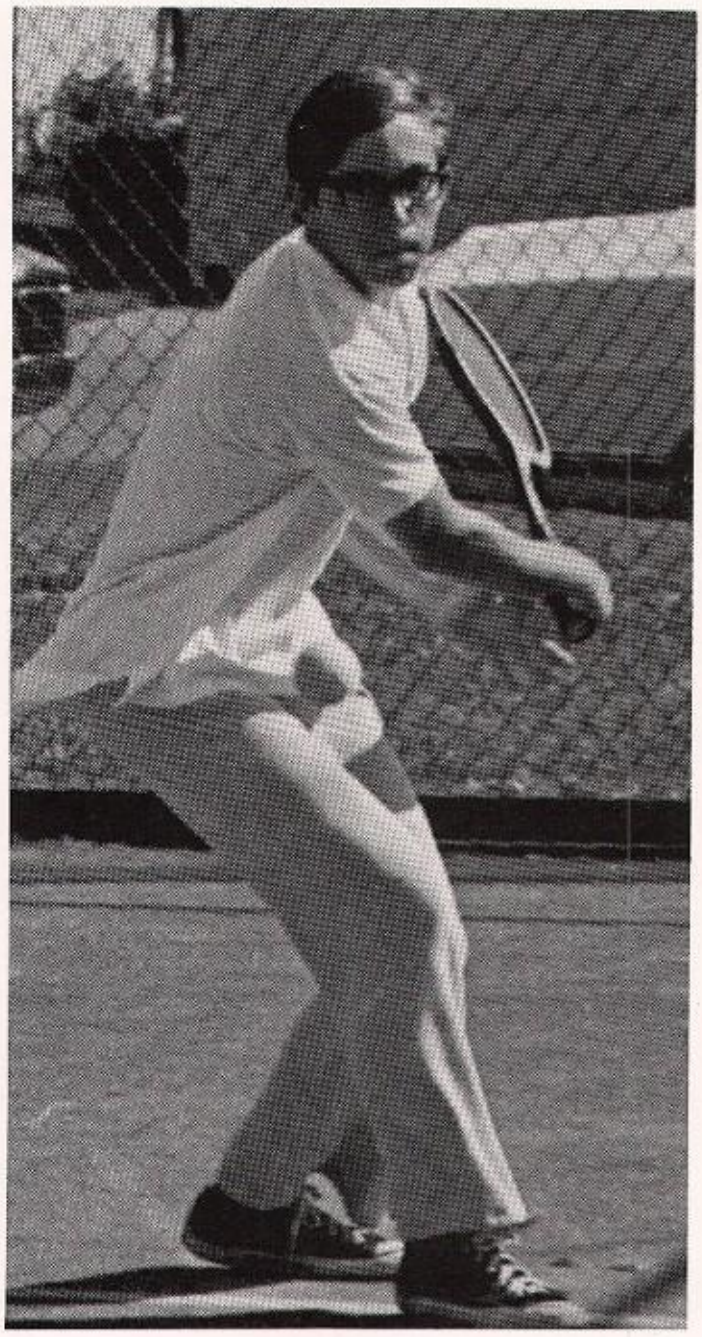
Tis a good racket



Coast Valley champs

Tennis playing is a good racket. Mac High Grizzlie netmen, under the direction of Coach Roy Atherton wrapped up their 1971 season with the Coast Division League Championship. A large number of players turned out for the team this year and several sophomores showed much talent, and will be important contributors to future teams. Tenth graders playing regularly were Stan Turner, Eric Wright, Dan Gormley, Bruce Griffith and Greg Mardock. Playing good tennis for their first year out were juniors Tom Adkins, Tom Garlock and Roy Atherton. Junior Dave Haggard, a regular last year had another good season. Jeff Doane and Graeme Spencer gained good experience and will be an asset to the team next year.

ASB officers

The 1970-71 executive board consisted of President Mark Cushing, First Vice President Pat Devlin, Second Vice President Dan Coleman, Secretary Cheryl Sanders, Treasurer Cheri Ringnalda, and Assistant Treasurer Lois Vandehey.

The board recommended and the student body voted for the revision of the Student Council this year to a Student Senate in which ten students were elected to represent each class, eliminating the Homeroom Representative System.

The purpose was to make Student Council smaller and more effective. Meetings were called regularly every two weeks. Some of the projects Student Council carried out were the scramble lunch line and the purchase of a stereo for the lobby.

Student senate provides changes

The 1971 Student Senate under the leadership of ASB President Mark Cushing enacted several changes. The name Student Council was changed to Student Senate early in the school year. Instead of each homeroom choosing a representative, each class, juniors, seniors, and sophomores, elected ten students to represent them in student senate. This change was made to make student council more efficient and effective. Another change was the number of meetings held. The senate met bi-weekly and rotated class periods. Later in the year the principal, Mr. Baisch began meeting with several students each Thursday to discuss school and community problems.

From slow sophomores to jivin' juniors, the Junior Class got the 1970-1971 year moving with homecoming. They sponsored the Homecoming Dance and also supplied the drivers and escorts for the queen and her court.

A successful workday and Prom showed the ambition that the 1971 Junior Class possessed.

Many juniors received awards in speech, athletics, and music; and will continue to show leadership as seniors.

Pollution preventers—always ready to help out with a screwdriver of a 10' ladder—are members of the custodian staff. Headed by Mr. Oleson, the group is in a large part responsible for the fresh appearance of the school and grounds.

Something new was added to the MHS cafeteria this year—as a scramble line was installed, where students could choose from a variety of sandwiches, salads, and hot dishes. Adding to the atmosphere was a change from the long benches to smaller tables where students could enjoy a more informal lunch hour. Unchanged was the favorite request—cinnamon rolls—and the best seller at the new line was predictable—hamburgers!

English

An objective of the McMinnville High School English Department is to prepare students for correct expression of themselves in the important areas of communications. New electives were offered this year. Short Story I and II, the Novel, Term Paper, Business English, Philosophy, and Composition were some of the choices for the students.

Social Studies

The seeds sown now will determine the harvest of the future in intelligent participation in our democratic society by the students whose formal education will end on the day of graduation from high school. The basic objectives are to prepare the students to become intelligent, informed, active citizens in our community. To achieve this objective, the Social Science offers elective courses. World History is available to any student who wants it. American History is required for juniors and provides a background for the senior requirement, Modern Problems.

Modern problems

Senior students must select four nine week courses for a years credit in Modern Problems. All must take Career Education and Personal Information during one of the nine week terms and may select from consumer research, comparative political systems, sociology, psychology, basic economics, and contemporary problems for their other nine week assignments.

Unusual proven through sciences

The purpose of the high school's science department is to prepare students for future work in the field of science and to provide understanding and appreciation to all students.

Biology is offered to sophomores and seniors as a basic science for their curriculum.

Chemistry is a physical science class more frequently taken by juniors but also open to seniors.

Earth space science stresses the theories governing the physical world.

Business is good

The main objective of the Business Education Department is to train both those students who are going into the business world immediately after graduation and those who plan on attending college. This course will enable many to find part time or summer jobs as well as providing for their own personal benefits. Shorthand, typing, briefhand, bookkeeping, business management, business machines, business law and clerical accounting are designed to prepare students for any field they may choose to enter.

Girls learn Home Ec skills

The objective of the home ec department is to develop the skill of the girls and prepare them as future homemakers. Also, this course gives them some philosophy which will guide them to a more highly rewarding family life.

Musicians prove ability

At McMinnville High School "M" stands for both McMinnville and music. The music department consists of both a vocal and instrumental section. The vocal section includes the twilighters, concert choir, and the mixed chorus. The director of these choirs is Mr. Doug Anderson.

Offered in the instrumental section is band, stage band, pep band, and orchestra. The band courses are directed by Mr. Donald Scott and Mr. John Dulaney. The orchestra is directed by Mr. Jim Annala.

The music department provides a wide curriculum where many MHS students can express and expand their talents. Many concerts are performed throughout the year by these various musical groups. The music department is a source of much entertainment and pride to the entire student body and community.

Twiliters place number one

The Twiliters are an outstanding singing group who earned the distinction of being the first choir to repeat being 1st Place trophy winners in Division AA at the Northwest Sing Choir Festival, held at Mt. Hood Community College. The first Sweepstakes award was also presented to this group at the festival, winning over 72 other groups competing. This award was an expense paid invitation to participate in the Monterey Jazz Festival in California September 17, 18, and 19, 1971.

Boys concentrate on vocational skills

McMinnville High School offers students a preparation for future occupations or hobbies in vocational arts programs. New this year is the metal arts shop, adjacent power mechanics, and agriculture shop. Also in the area of shop classes are horticulture, woodworking, electronics, and drafting. Under the direction of instructors Atherton, Morrow, Wimer, Asbury, Kuhn, and Elsberry, students gain valuable skills and knowledge which will benefit them in their future lives.

Physical Education

The purpose of Physical Education is to offer a well-balanced program, to give students a chance to develop physically, as well as to give them good sports habits and interests that will be of value to them for future years.

Health

Students in health classes are given units on mental health, family life education, communicable and non-communicable diseases, and proper medical care. Students acquire objective, scientific information concerning the dangers and effects of alcohol, narcotics, and tobacco.

Drivers Training

"I always did want to know what that was", muses Lorinda Anderson as Mr. Rich points to engine in driver's training car. Mr. Rogers is shown at top left preparing for another hour of driving with Kris Fitzgerald as she works on completing her six hours of driving.

Forty-five hours of instruction is given in Drivers Training, including orientation to the different types of automobiles, basic driving operations, safety factors, rules and regulations, and proper driving attitudes. To qualify for Drivers Training the student must have satisfactorily completed Driver Education. This phase is offered to students before their regular school day, after school, or on Saturdays. This includes six hours of acutal behind-the-wheel driving. Preference is given to upper-classmen, but each year as many sophomores as possible are included.

Foreign Language

The Foreign Language Department increased in size and scope this year with the introduction of German, taught by Mr. Doug Lamoreaux. German, Spanish, and French are offered as elective courses for students who wish to master a new language. These courses are taught by the utilization of ALM Audio Lingual Series. The emphasis is placed on learning the grammatical principles indirectly. This is done through dialogues, drills, reading, and writing. In the end, these goals hopefully bring a full comprehension of the language.

Art students explore

This years art program offers students the opportunity to explore the various fields of art expression. The course is not designed just for those students with special talents, but strives to give art experience to any student who has an interest in this area.

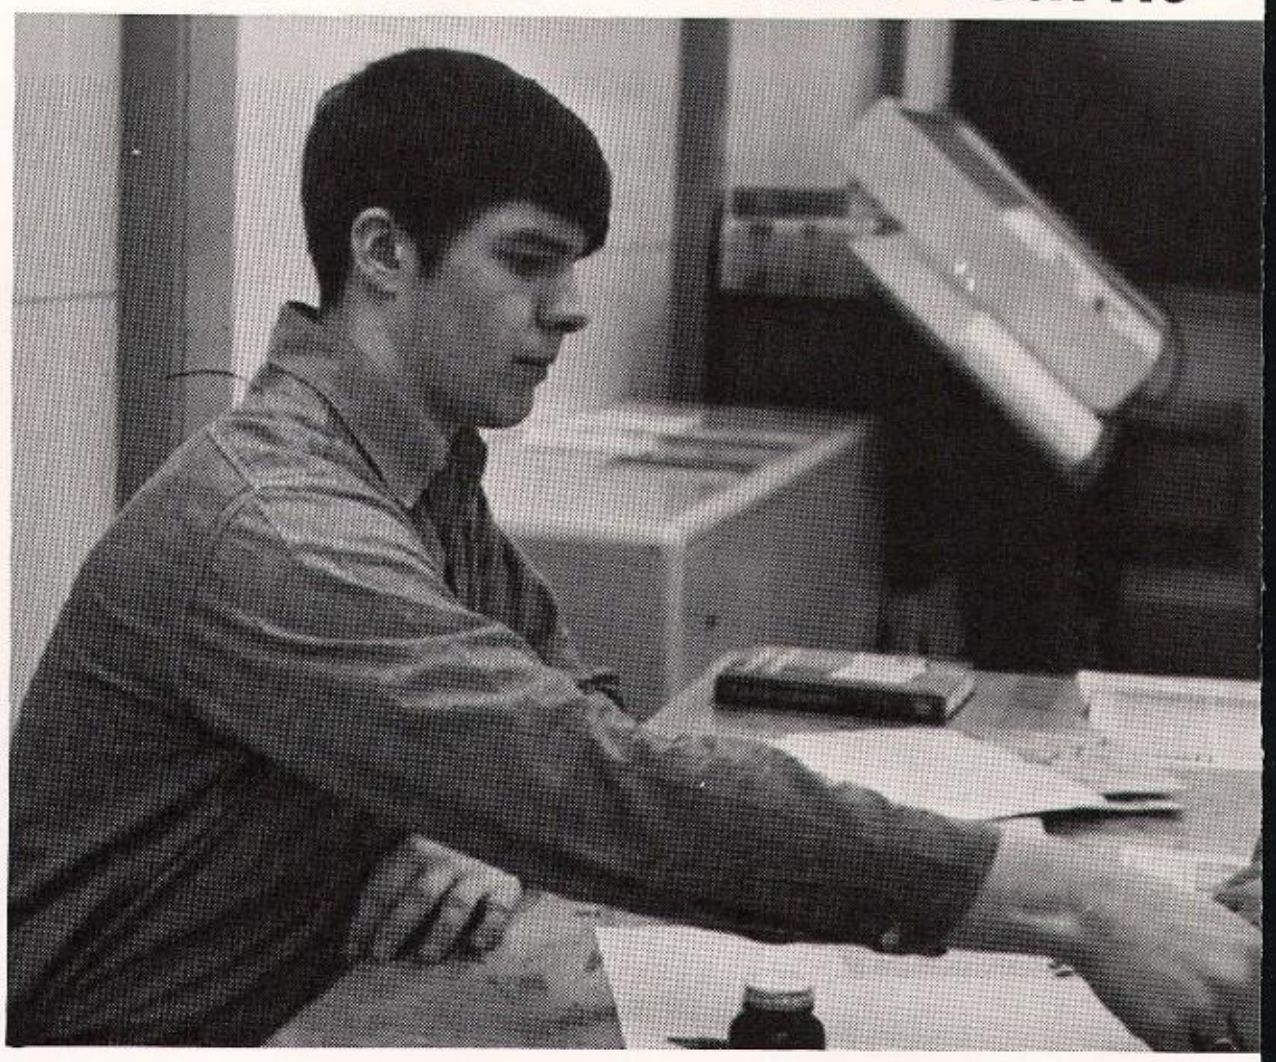
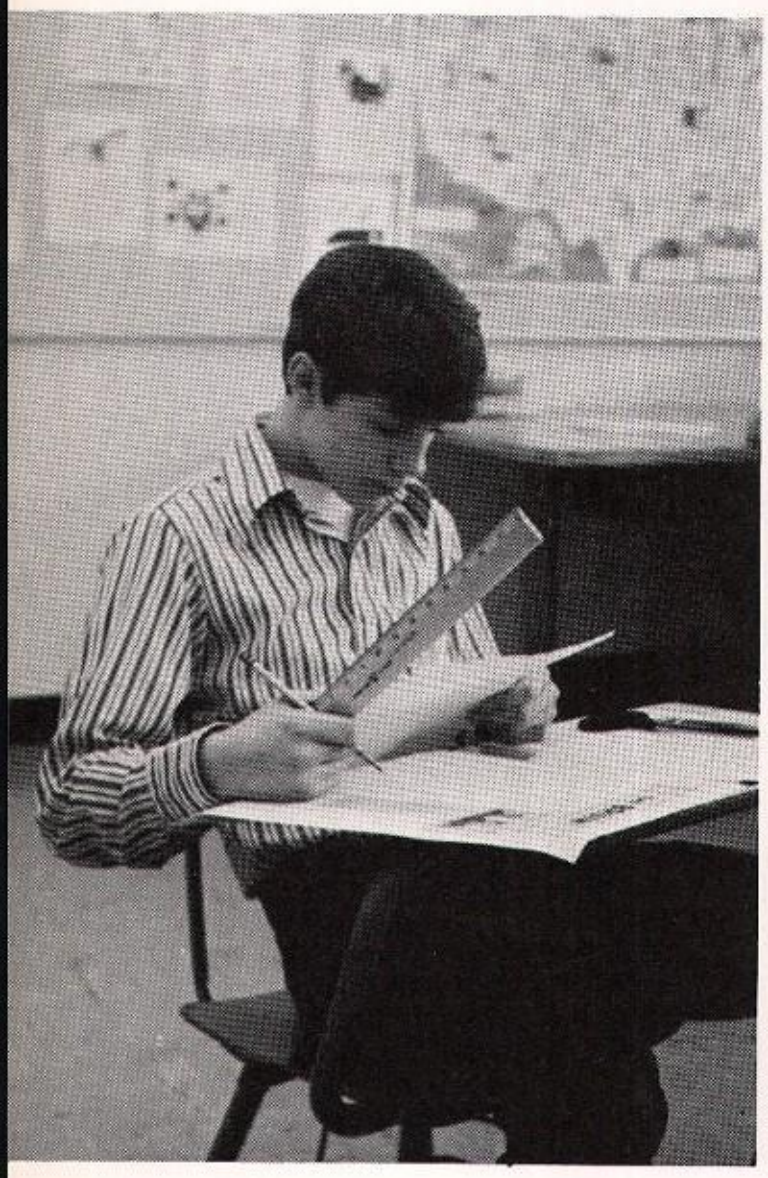
Journalism I class learns

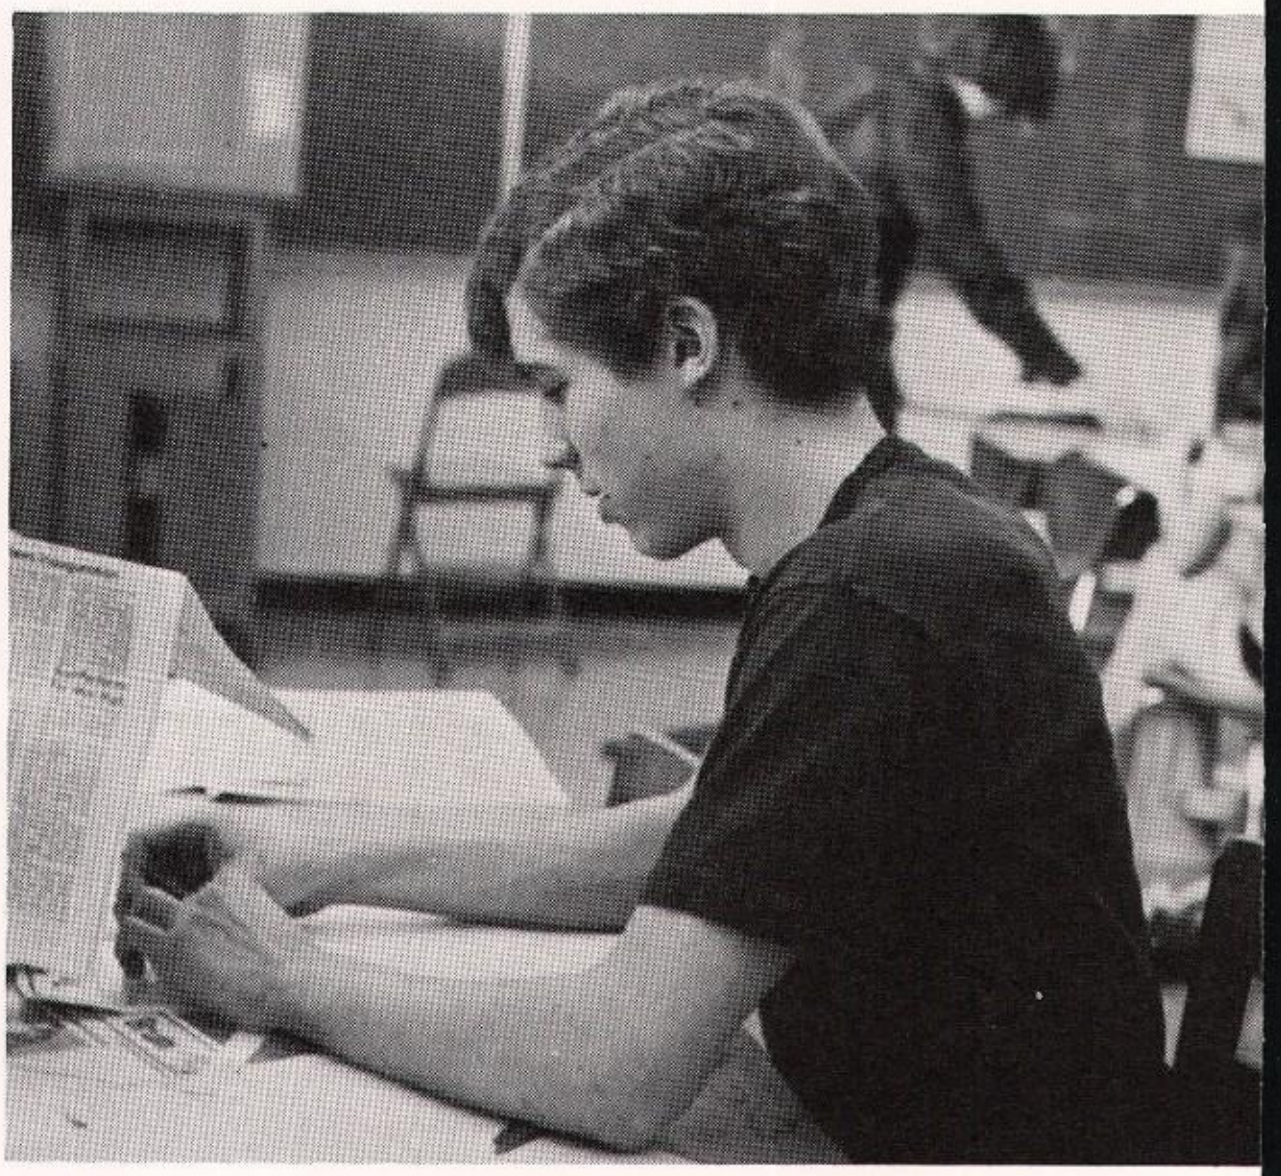
Room 62 was the center of cutlines, headlines, and deadlines this year, as the Bruin staff members faced bi-weekly paste-ups. The activity got underway, from the first day assignments were posted, to the final deadline for all copy to be in.

Each paper began with the editorial board deciding on the most important upcoming events and then posting the assignments. Then it was each staff member's responsibility to gather and report on his articles.

In between this time, the photographers were in charge of taking pictures of the events and developing the photographs themselves. All this copy then went to the editors, Denise Wheeler and Jim Kostur, for proof-reading. The paper was then layed out, pasted together, and sent to the publisher. After the Bruin returned from the publisher, it was distributed to the student body in the lobby.







At top, Mike Henderson prepares for Bruin paste-up. Above, Phil Roemmick is concerned with news placement. Right, Scott Harris plans a layout.

Humanities

Humanities is a course dealing specifically with art, drama, and music. The class is limited to seventy five members. Usually the class will listen to presentations given by the staff, members of the class, and outside speakers. They attend various dramatic and musical productions and visit art exhibits. This class is particularly fortunate in having Linfield College nearby for they draw on the staff and students of Linfield for presentations and for visits to campus for special events.

Diversified occupations

Diversified Occupations is the division of our curriculum that is designed for junior and senior students who are interested in a step toward specialization in their career field. Mr. Ken Rogers is director of the D.O. program and the related cooperative work experience program.

Service, work, pride,
Joy, tears, friendship,
Learning, striving and laughter,
That is life . . .

To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose
under heaven
